

ANCO-Eaglin Inc, the oldest equipment supplier serving the food and by-products industry, since 1902.

A rapidly growing International equipment supplier and engineering firm, which designs and manufactures equipment for the food and by-products industry, seeks an aggressive Sales Engineer to expand our growing Rendering and Waste Water Treatment Business. Responsibilities include; increasing parts sales, developing new projects, sizing, selecting, and laying out equipment according to customer's specifications and maintaining existing customer base.

The successful candidate, after the sale, will work directly with engineering and manufacturing and occasionally assist in equipment start-ups.

Experience required: Engineering background and/or proven work history in the Meat, Rendering or Waste Water Treatment Industry.

CAD experience and knowledge of pumping systems is a plus.

Domestic and some International travel will be required; the ability to speak multiple languages is a plus.

The position offers lucrative opportunity in a growing company with a competitive salary, excellent commission structure, and a complete benefits package.

The position offers highly competitive salary based on industry experience and relative qualifications. Company paid health benefits, vacation, performance bonuses, paid holidays, and available 401K with match and additional company contribution

Send resume in confidence to:

ANCO-Eaglin Inc.

c/o Sales Engineer Position

1420 Lorraine Ave

High Point, NC 27263 USA

Email: info@ancoeaglin.com